

Make VLC Open on Second Display - Windows 10 - VLC

2.2.6

VLC should, by default, reopen where you closed it, BUT VLC will save its window location only if not "maximized". If one puts VLC in Maximized mode, it loses its display / window location, and tries to open on the first display.

PS: I have VLC Start fullscreen, so what I did was manually open VLC, drag to monitor, play TV show, make sure NOT Maximized/FullScreen, Close VLC. Then you test again.
